

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Friday, Sept. 9, 1910.

The Bulletin should be delivered every where in the city before 9 a. m. Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to The Bulletin Co.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Today.

For New England: Showers Friday; Saturday fair and cooler; moderate southwest shifting to northwest winds. Precipitation from the New York Herald: On Friday partly cloudy and slightly warmer weather will prevail, with light and fresh southerly winds, followed by local rains in this section, and on Saturday overcast and slightly cooler weather, with local rains.

Observations in Norwich. The following records, reported from Sevin's pharmacy, show the changes in temperature and the barometric changes Thursday:

	Ther. Bar.
7 a. m.	61 30.15
12 m.	62 30.15
6 p. m.	67 30.12
Highest 74.	Lowest 60.

Comparisons. Predictions for Thursday: Fair; variable winds. Thursday's weather: As predicted.

Sun, Moon and Tides.
Rises.	Sets.
Day.	a. m. p. m.
1	5:15 10:15
2	5:30 10:30
3	5:45 10:45
4	6:00 11:00
5	6:15 11:15
6	6:30 11:30
7	6:45 11:45
8	7:00 12:00
9	7:15 12:15
10	7:30 12:30
11	7:45 12:45
12	8:00 1:00

Six hours after high water it is low tide, which is followed by flood tide.

GREENVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Gilmore Making a Trip Through Canada—Village Happenings—Personal Notes of Local Interest.

Jay Ricketts has returned to his home on Prospect street.

J. C. Atterbury of the East Side was in Hartford Thursday and attended the fair there.

James Carter has returned to Hartford after spending his vacation at his home on Smith avenue.

Miss Lillian Eastman of Hartford has been visiting friends and relatives in the village the past week.

Patrick Shea of Boston, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Shea, on Prospect street, has returned.

Fred Chandler has taken a big painting and papering job on Bowdoin avenue, and begins work today (Friday).

James McAvoy, who has been visiting relatives in this place during the past week, has returned to New Bedford, Mass.

Mrs. Margaret Howard of Webster, Mass., is visiting at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. McKinley, on Thirteenth street.

Edward N. Brown of Prospect street is away on a few days' vacation, which time he will visit with friends in Hartford and Middletown.

Miss Mollie McCarthy and Miss Katie Ryan have returned to New York, after spending several days at the home of Miss Maloney of Fifth street.

James Kirby and William Pletcher went to Boston on Thursday for the purpose of witnessing the series of baseball games played between the Athletics and Red Sox.

Joseph T. Farrell of Fourth street has returned from Hartford, where he spent several days with relatives and friends. On Sunday he took in the Charter Oak fair.

Henry Donnelly, who has been visiting his mother, Josephine Donnelly, in the Norwich postoffice, during the past few days, has returned to his home in Jersey City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Gilmore of No. 120 Seventh street have gone to Canada, where they will make a ten days' stay and visit Montreal and other places of interest.

Handsome Illuminated Copy Received by Mrs. B. P. Learned Regarding Major Belia.

There has been received from Secretary Lucius A. Barbour by Mrs. B. P. Learned a handsome illuminated copy of the resolution of respect adopted by the Society of the Colonial Wars regarding the death of Major Belia P. Learned, showing the high rank he was given by that state organization. The resolution read as follows:

"At a meeting of the council of the Society of Colonial Wars in the state of Connecticut, held at Hartford on March 30, 1910, the following resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered to be spread upon the minutes and a copy transmitted to the family:

Resolved, That the council of the great loss it has suffered in the death of our fellow member and former governor—Major Belia P. Learned.

"As an officer he gave keen judgment, sound sense and high minded consideration to his affairs.

"As a member, his wit, his sociability and attractive personality drew him to him.

"As a man, in the community in which he lived, and throughout the state, his connection with us lent dignity and strength to our organization."

Work on Sewers.

The Bowdoin avenue sewer has been completed, and on Thursday the sewer on Oneco street between Williams street and Lincoln avenue, work on which was started on Wednesday, was practically completed. Today the authorized sewer 460 feet long on Platt avenue from Broad street, to the north line of 4th street, will be commenced. The Bowdoin avenue sewer, notwithstanding the fact that 500 running feet of ledge was met with, was finished within the appropriation, $2,948. The appropriations for the other sewer on Platt avenue, which is $400 and $750, ledge being expected in the latter.

Funeral.

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

20 Franklin St., Bulletin Bldg.

Telephone 642-2.

Prompt service day or night.

Lady Assistant.

Residence 116 Broadway.

Telephone 645-2.

Entertained Norwich Guests.

Herwald Lodge, No. 12, Order of Herwald Sons of New London, met Wednesday night and entertained a delegation of about fifteen members of Germania lodge of Norwich. After the meeting there was a social session.

Several Prisoners Receive Sentences

Maurice Freeman Found Guilty—Albert Stokes Given from One to Four Years, Whitford Gets Ten Months in Jail While His Companions Have Sentences Suspended.

On Thursday morning the criminal superior court was a half hour late in coming in, owing to the fact that a question had been raised as to the sanity of Maurice Freeman, who was on trial for breaking into a house at Lebanon. Dr. R. W. Kimball was called in to see the accused, and reported that he could not say that he was not sane. The trial proceeded and several witnesses were heard. The arguments were completed early in the forenoon, after which the court adjourned for a half hour. The jury returned with a verdict of guilty. Judge Burpee sentenced Freeman to not less than a year nor more than eighteen months in state prison.

There was some trouble getting this case started in the forenoon, but after the judge had stated that a half hour had been wasted and the court desired to be kept busy, State Attorney Hull announced that the case was ready. Attorney Douglas, who had been assigned to defend Freeman, was not present, and eight other attorneys were called, but did not respond. Attorney A. M. Brown was there, and after a short conference with the judge, the judge announced that the cases must be taken up in their order, and all delays possible should be avoided.

Following this, a sentence was given on Thursday afternoon several prisoners changed their pleas and received sentences.

Ernest Whitford, who was presented, charged with breaking into a Central Vermont freight car with three other boys, namely, Muscull, Brady and Krempski, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to ten months in jail. He is now serving a sentence for breaking from the city court, and that sentence will not expire until next month. The sentence of Thursday will start at that time. The other boys entered pleas of guilty. Muscull and Brady being given six months in jail and Krempski three months. Their sentences were suspended and they were put in care of the probation officer.

One to Four Years.

Albert Stokes of Groton pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking into a house upon a girl 10 years of age. He was given one to four years in state prison. Judge Burpee stated that had he been tried and found guilty he would have sentenced him to ten years at Vethersfield.

Charged with slandering boys, Alonzo Geer of Montville had the bonds in his case raised from $600 to $3,000. This was opposed by his counsel, Mr. J. P. Deane, but the state attorney informed the court that fourteen additional bonds had been added to the information against the accused.

Boy to Reform School.

William Johnson pleaded guilty to entering the house of Appleton Maine, in North Stonington, May 30, 1909, and was sentenced to the reform school. He was charged with breaking into the house of a girl 10 years of age.

SALEM HAS A WARMLY CONTESTED CAUCUS.

Delegation to State Convention in Split, but Senatorial Delegation is for Bradford.

At 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon the republicans of Salem met at the town house for their caucus to select delegates. There was a sharp contest which made the session nearly two hours long, but state attorney Douglas was chosen chairman and Charles A. Williams was made clerk. There were contests for the state and senatorial delegations. For the state delegations Elmer N. Chadwick won over Howard A. Rix by 26 to 21, while Sidney A. Dolbear won over E. L. Spencer by 25 to 15. Mr. Chadwick is far Lake, but it is stated Mr. Dolbear's choice is uncertain.

There was also a contest for the senatorial delegation. Elmer N. Chadwick, clerk in the Norwich postoffice, during the past few days, has returned to his home in Jersey City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Gilmore of No. 120 Seventh street have gone to Canada, where they will make a ten days' stay and visit Montreal and other places of interest.

Handsome Illuminated Copy Received by Mrs. B. P. Learned Regarding Major Belia.

There has been received from Secretary Lucius A. Barbour by Mrs. B. P. Learned a handsome illuminated copy of the resolution of respect adopted by the Society of the Colonial Wars regarding the death of Major Belia P. Learned, showing the high rank he was given by that state organization. The resolution read as follows:

"At a meeting of the council of the Society of Colonial Wars in the state of Connecticut, held at Hartford on March 30, 1910, the following resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered to be spread upon the minutes and a copy transmitted to the family:

Resolved, That the council of the great loss it has suffered in the death of our fellow member and former governor—Major Belia P. Learned.

"As an officer he gave keen judgment, sound sense and high minded consideration to his affairs.

"As a member, his wit, his sociability and attractive personality drew him to him.

"As a man, in the community in which he lived, and throughout the state, his connection with us lent dignity and strength to our organization."

Work on Sewers.

The Bowdoin avenue sewer has been completed, and on Thursday the sewer on Oneco street between Williams street and Lincoln avenue, work on which was started on Wednesday, was practically completed. Today the authorized sewer 460 feet long on Platt avenue from Broad street, to the north line of 4th street, will be commenced. The Bowdoin avenue sewer, notwithstanding the fact that 500 running feet of ledge was met with, was finished within the appropriation, $2,948. The appropriations for the other sewer on Platt avenue, which is $400 and $750, ledge being expected in the latter.

Funeral.

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

20 Franklin St., Bulletin Bldg.

Telephone 642-2.

Prompt service day or night.

Lady Assistant.

Residence 116 Broadway.

Telephone 645-2.

Entertained Norwich Guests.

Herwald Lodge, No. 12, Order of Herwald Sons of New London, met Wednesday night and entertained a delegation of about fifteen members of Germania lodge of Norwich. After the meeting there was a social session.

Funeral.

Funeral Director and Embalmer.

20 Franklin St., Bulletin Bldg.

Telephone 642-2.

Prompt service day or night.

Lady Assistant.

Residence 116 Broadway.

Telephone 645-2.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

HOLD CONFERENCE.

Several Interesting Papers Heard at the Session in Griswold—Rev. H. T. Arnold's Paper.

A conference of the six congregational churches of Plainfield, Jewett City, Preston City, Lisbon, Hanover and Griswold was held with the church at Griswold Wednesday. The weather was fine, the attendance good, the welcome cordial and the services helpful and inspiring.

Rev. Charles L. French, the pastor of the entertaining church, served as moderator of the meetings and conducted the devotional service of the morning, calling upon Rev. C. W. Burt, a visiting clergyman from Abington, Conn., to read the scriptures, and Rev. E. M. Anthony of Jewett City to offer prayer.

Rev. Benjamin S. Winchester of Boston, now secretary of the religious education department of the congregational Sunday School and Publication society, was the preacher of the day.

He took for his text Mark 10: 21. "Then Jesus, beholding him, loved him."

He showed first the fascination of youth. We may respect old age and admire the achievements of middle life, but the youth, standing as they do on the threshold of life, we cannot help but love.

And yet we must sometimes sorrow, for the youth is the time of change. Jesus to the young inquirer with whom he was conversing, "One thing thou lackest, and thou wilt be made perfect."

That lack, he went on to show, is of religion, and said that no man can live a worthy and successful life without the help of God. It is the duty of the church, by her teaching and by the inspiration of her members, to make the young realize this lack (that is of religion) and to teach and inspire them also to the fullness of life, which is the fullness alone can make the supply for every human need.

In this way the young must be led to "love and obey God," being able to recognize in the universe not simply natural law and the continuity of nature, but the working of God's purposeless law and as well his loving invitation to companionship with him.

It makes a vast difference whether a man has been taught to believe or only to think. The world as well as the church must realize this, and plan to supply the lack.

There has been a great waste of material things in this land of ours. We are now seeking to conserve. The greatest waste that has been or can be is of the youth of our land. Above all, we must seek to conserve this waste for God and humanity.

Following the morning session was the customary beautiful collation and the services of the afternoon were greatly enjoyed by all.

Dr. G. W. Jewett City conducted the afternoon devotional meeting and offered prayer.

Edward Hall of Plainfield was the first speaker at the conference. His programme, his subject being How Can Our Churches Render a Larger Service to Their Respective Communities for Their Mutual Advancement?

Among other things he said: We should make more common use of the scriptures, not only in our own homes, but in our churches. The Bible should be filled with portraits of human nature, and the New Testament tells us how to conduct that nature. If we are to conduct the Bible, we must better for us and for all.

We should also keep the young men on the farms. This can be done in part by the parents and ministers of the church, and in part by interesting themselves in farmers' institutes and doing what they can to promote scientific agriculture.

The church will be able to save more souls if she is largely interested in the material as well as the spiritual welfare of the community. We must first reach men, and then we may save them.

Rev. F. A. Holden of Preston spoke upon the political side of the general topic, his subject being How Can Our Churches Help Toward the Betterment of Political Affairs?

First the church must realize that her mission in the community is to build up the kingdom of God, and also that we must have a material basis for that kingdom if the largest success is to be ours.

Then the church should not be pessimistic but optimistic, because her great leader is optimistic, and because she is engaged in a contest that is to be a winning one. The church can make men hopeful and it is her duty to do this. The church can also educate her own members and the community at large as to their duty and privilege along political lines. Good papers and magazines can be helpful, as well as good citizenship clubs and similar organizations.

All alike in every community, without regard to political affiliations, should be interested in and strive for liberty and justice in political affairs.

We should study public questions and what laws in regard to them ought to be enacted. The church should satisfy herself that those for whom we vote will make such laws.

Rev. H. T. Arnold's Paper.

In the absence of Rev. H. T. Arnold of Norwich, the conference was addressed by the third topic of the programme, his paper was read by Rev. E. M. Anthony of Jewett City. His subject was How Can Our Churches Render a Larger Service to Their Respective Communities for Their Mutual Advancement?

He said: The church who seeks to render larger service to his fellow beings has a noble aim, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

A community flourishing spiritually is like a well watered garden in which flowers and fruit abound.

For a church to render spiritual service to the community it must itself be a spiritual community. It must be a community of love, and in nothing is more noble than in the promotion of their spiritual welfare. This carries with it many other benefits and is the spring of manifold and permanent blessing.

NORWICH TOWN.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary J. Cole—Mrs. John Tucker's Death—Premium Winners at County Fair.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary J. Cole was held at the Johnson home at three o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. P. C. Wright of the Central Baptist church conducted the service. The beautiful flowers included a large bunch of white asters from her niece and nephew, a cluster of purple and white asters from Ever Ready circle of the King's Daughters, and flowers from other relatives. Burial was in Yantic cemetery, where a committal service was read at the grave. The bearers were J. H. Holloway, Lewis Church, F. L. Cranston and Shepard Palmer. Henry Allen & Son had charge of the arrangements.

Death of Mrs. John Tucker. Friends here were grieved to hear of the death of Mrs. Harriet Tucker, which occurred on Wednesday afternoon. She was taken from her home to the Shelton Arms and for a week there, where she died.

Mrs. Tucker was the daughter of Barnabas and Charlotte Tucker, who lived in Norwich town for many years. She married John Tucker of Norwich in 1860. After living for some years in Conway, Mass., she moved here and after the death of her husband Mrs. Tucker continued to reside here.

Two daughters, Mrs. Eva Simms of Hartford and Mrs. Jessie Smith of Plainfield, survive her. Mrs. Tucker had a cheery nature, and in times of trial and perplexity looked on the bright side of things. She was a faithful member of the Central Baptist church and was a devoted mother and a good friend to those about her.

Winners of Premiums. Among those from this vicinity who have been successful in winning premiums at the county fair are Arthur A. Mitchell, Gibson Dickerson, Henry Warner, Charles Lillibridge, Mrs. H. B. Latham, Mrs. Frank Barber, Mrs. Goldsberry, Mrs. James Ringland and Mrs. William Burdick.

Noted About Town. Miss Marjorie M. Barber has returned after a visit with friends near Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barber of Plainfield are attending the Connecticut state fair in Hartford.

Miss Elizabeth Wheeler is spending several days with Mrs. Charles Lillibridge of the Scotland road.

Mrs. Agnes Smart and her son, Manfred Smart, of Hingham, R. I., are guests of friends on Plainfield.

After spending her vacation here, Miss Louise Newman left Thursday evening to resume teaching in New York.

Mrs. George Lewis of Quebec, Canada, who has been visiting her brother, Dr. E. J. Lewis, in this place, is now in Williamstown, Mass.

Mrs. G. L. Randall and son, George Randall, returned on Thursday to their home on West Town street after a stay at Crescent beach.

Mrs. Jennie B. Duer was in Boston Thursday with her brother, John H. Duer, who started from here for South Dakota. His place in the local market has not yet been filled.

Mr. William Geer of Washington street has had as a guest over Labor day his brother, E. S. Wightman of Schenectady, N. Y. Henry Cairns of East Hartford, formerly of Bliss place, has also been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Geer.

TAFTVILLE.

Henry Morse Home After Pleasant Trip in Canada—Italian Laborer Injured at New Reservoir—News Notes and Personal.

While assisting in moving a large derrick at the new reservoir Thursday morning, one of the Italian laborers was struck forcibly by one of the guy ropes that had by some chance given away and injured quite badly. Two ribs were broken and a number of bad bruises were sustained. A physician was immediately summoned and the injured man was conveyed to his home on Thompson street.

Returns from Extended Trip. Henry Morse has returned to his home on Merchants' avenue after enjoying an extensive trip of two weeks' duration which included brief stops in Boston, Worcester, Lowell and Manchester, Mass., and Shelburne, Canada, where he attended the big Shelburne fair.

Here and There About the Village. William Whelan and his wife, Kate, were recent visitors at Pleasant beach.

Miss Mary McSheffrey of South A street is visiting friends in Providence, R. I.

Charles McSheffrey and Miss Jennie McSheffrey have returned from a visit in Providence, R. I.

Miss Jane Parrel of New Bedford, Mass., is visiting Mrs. Agnes Hamon on Merchants' avenue.

Eugene Lambert of North A street, a weaver in the Poneman mill, is enjoying a week's vacation at this time.

Adolph Le Bluen and son, Emil Le Bluen, have gone to Canada to spend some time with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Helen Alford of No. 22 South A street has gone to Nashua, N. H., where she will visit with relatives and friends for a few days.

Augustin Paradis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chatter and Joseph C. Marsan and his son, Samuel Marsan, attended the Shelburne fair.

Miss E. M. Berger of Beloit, Wis., along with thousands of others, believed it impossible to remove freckles and that she'd always have them. She knows better now. She heard of Kintho, got a two-ounce package and tried it. Great truths crowd upon us—they come to serve man—they come to fill his soul with life. The church is the place where these truths are made known. Time lessens its value.

Two-ounce package of Kintho (extra strength) at toilet goods counter of Lee & Osgood and see how quickly it will banish your freckles.

THE NEW LONDON COUNTY FAIR ON Thursday.

Miss Annie Day of Merchants' avenue, who has been visiting for the past four weeks at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Drea, of Crystal avenue, New London, has returned home.